About Me

I am a passionate and dedicated Computer Science educator with over five years of teaching experience, supported by a solid academic foundation that includes a BCA from Dibrugarh University and an MCS from Assam University. My teaching journey includes roles at Paragon Senior Secondary School, Badarpur, a well-regarded computer training institute, AIT Badarpur, and my current position as a contractual teacher at Railway Higher Secondary School, Badarpur.

I specialize in Web Development, Database Management, Software Engineering, and Cyber security, with hands-on proficiency in Python, R, C, C++, and Java. I also have a growing interest in Hardware, Networking, and Ethical Hacking, and I enjoy expanding my technical skills alongside my teaching.

I am open to new opportunities in teaching and project development, where I can continue to inspire problem-solving, creativity, and real-world application. My goal is to build engaging, skill-oriented learning spaces where students discover their potential and prepare for successful careers.
